

Hit The Switch Terms & Conditions

Hit the Switch is a not for profit program which is currently being presented in face-plate only mode to gauge interest. Interest will be gauged by registrations and feedback and this will determine how the program progresses. The aim of the program is to bring together a group of people who are interested in saving electricity at home. The program seeks to share information about best practices as well as run a challenge whereby people can use the ideas and information presented to cut their household electricity usage.

The Mission Statement of Hit The Switch is:

To Help Save Electricity in the home and around the world.

General Terms

Hit The Switch, here-in referred to as The Facilitator makes no claims, commitments or promises as to the savings a person or household might make. Furthermore, The Facilitator makes no claims as to when the program will go live and reserves all rights to change, manage or terminate the program with our without notice to persons registered or casually using (unregistered) services of the site. These persons, referred to here after as Users or The Users may terminate their association with the Hit The Switch, at times referred to here after as The Program or program, and can opt out of receiving further emails and communication.

The Users, once registered will be entered in an email data base and will receive periodic emails relevant to the program. The Facilitator reserves the right to terminate the program with or without notice to its Users.
